

The Behavior Service runs a full receiving schedule at the VMTH to provide behavioral counseling for owners and their pets. They range from aggression to anxiety. Currently there is 1 faculty and 1 resident.

Don Low Fellows participate in all activities of the service including client appointments, teaching rounds, puppy socialization classes, and dog training activities as scheduled. More information on the Behavior Service can be found at <http://behavior.vetmed.ucdavis.edu>.

We welcome the contributions that Don Low Fellows bring to the Behavior Service, particularly because students gain a tremendous benefit from exposure to private practice experiences and gain an understanding of life-long learning. The schedule can be either a set day, or a series of days in a row, based on the schedule of the Service and the Fellow.

Specific expectations/opportunities for the Fellow are as follows:

- Learn how to integrate behavior into your practice with implementation of treatment protocols as well as preventative strategies.
- Attend Behavior Rounds with the faculty and resident.
- Prepare for and participate in behavior consultations.
- If desired, opportunities exist for mentored, self-study in areas of special interest to the candidate.
